

Sometimes
it takes a neighbor
to diagnose a serious heart problem.

Cornville resident Joe Knauer had always been pretty healthy, until one day when Joe's legs began to hurt so badly he had to stop and rest several times. It wasn't the type of thing Joe was used to experiencing. That pain in his legs was an indicator of something serious. Joe mentioned the pain to a group of local friends, including his friend John - who is known nationally as Dr. John Schor, a recognized authority in cardiovascular surgery and part of the Heart & Vascular Center of Northern Arizona. That was all it took to set in motion a series of tests and procedures, including a quadruple bypass and aortic valve replacement.

Joe's story is just another example of what our world-class medical talent does every day right here for our neighbors in the Verde Valley at the Heart & Vascular Center of Northern Arizona, a partnership of Flagstaff Medical Center and Verde Valley Medical Center.
